

JAYA SHANKAR SINGH

● Fellow at IIM Lucknow ●

Career Summary

Currently, I am doing my PhD at IIM Lucknow and am at the final stage of my thesis submission. Teaching and guiding young minds is something that has always inspired me, and that is why I chose this career path. I worked in corporate for almost 3 years and then moved to academics. Apart from teaching, I have handled the administration and operations duties at a college.

During COVID lockdowns while teaching my nephew, I realized the importance of teaching school children, and that is what inspiring me to go back to school. I understand that teaching at schools has different requirements like having a BEd and clearing the CTET exam, which I promise to complete as soon as possible.
